DEDICATION

PSALM CXXII. 8, 9.

For my Brethren and Companions ſake, I will wiſh thee Proſperity.

Yea, becauſe of the Houſe of the Lord our God, I will ſeek to do thee Good.

THE whole Pſalm, from whence theſe Words are taken, is remarkable for thoſe Sentiments, which form the Temper and Character of a true Lover of his Country. They follow one another in that quick abrupt Manner, which is natural to a Writer when the Thoughts come warm from the Heart, upon a Subject in which he is deeply intereſted. In this Situation of Mind, the Pſalmiſt ſeems impatient to declare to us at once, what inexpreſſible Satisfaction he felt, when they ſaid unto him Let us go into the Houſe of the Lord.

WHEN he compoſed this Pſalm, he was certainly at a remote Diſtance from Jeruſalem, but the Houſe of GOD immediately brings Jeruſalem into his View, and he anticipates the Pleaſure, which he and his Fellow-Travellers ſhould enjoy, when they arrived at this City of GOD; Our Feet ſhall ſtand in thy Gates, O Jeruſalem! The great and glorious Privileges by which this City was diſtinguiſhed above all others, now occur to him; and he ſets Jeruſalem before us in a ſhort emphatical Deſcription, as the Center of Civil Union and Divine Worſhip. Jeruſalem is builded as a City, that is compact together: Thither the Tribes go up, to give Thanks unto the Name of the Lord; there the Seats of Judgment are fixed, and the Thrones of the Houſe of David eſtabliſhed. This reminds him that the Fate of a whole People depended upon the Welfare of this City. Of courſe he breaks out into a ſudden authoritative Exhortation to his Countrymen, to offer up a general Prayer to GOD for the Peace of it; and having pronounced the Bleſſing of Proſperity upon all, who were as zealouſly affected towards Jeruſalem as himſelf, he inſtantly pours forth his own devout Wiſh, that this National Prayer may be heard; Pray for the Peace of Jeruſalem; they ſhall proſper that love thee. Peace be within thy Walls, and Plenteouſneſs within thy Palaces. His own ſtedfaſt Purpoſe, which he declares in the Words

Words of the Text, hath ſomething in it wonderfully ſolemn and affecting, and completes this ſacred Model of Patriotiſm: For my Brethren and Companions ſake, I will wiſh thee Proſperity; yea, becauſe of the Houſe of the Lord our God, I will ſeek to do thee Good.

BRETHREN and COMPANIONS, in the public-ſpirited Language of the Pſalmiſt, are Terms that take in all his Countrymen; and we as Chriſtians, from higher Motives, ought to conſider, and to treat all who live with us under the ſame Proteſtant Government, as Brethren and Companions. But this Paſſage affords us a far more important Inſtruction.

THE Maintenance of public Happineſs, and the Preſervation of true Religion, are inſeparably connected with each other by the very Conſtitution of Things; though ſome are weak enough not to diſcern this Connection, and others too diſſolute to regard it. It is for the joint Sake of both, that the Pſalmiſt is determined to ſeek every Opportunity of doing Good to Jeruſalem; and for the ſame unchangable Reaſons, every Man is indiſpenſably obliged to love and ſerve his Country.

WITH the Bulk of Mankind, I am afraid, the Love of their Country is little more, than a Fondneſs for the Place, where it was their Lot to be born, or an implicit Attachment to the Cuſtoms and Faſhions, in which they have been educated. But the Love of our Country, as it is repreſented to us in the Text, is founded in Benevolence, and ennobled by Religion: It is an affectionate Concern for that political Syſtem of Government, which protects us in the Enjoyment of temporal Bleſſings, and ſecures to us a free Profeſſion of Religion, without which thoſe Bleſſings will and muſt be precarious. Such a Love of our Country is the moſt enlarged and exalted of all our ſocial Affections, becauſe it virtually regulates and comprehends all the Reſt. It is in Effect the Love of ourſelves, and of all who ſhare theſe Bleſſings with us: So that if we know our own Meaning when we ſay we love our Country, we muſt alſo know in what Manner we ſhall ſerve our Country moſt effectually; and that whatever promotes the Practice of Virtue, by ſtrengthening the Influence of Religion, adds new Degrees of Stability to the public Welfare.

BUT becauſe this fundamental Truth, though exemplified and confirmed by the Experience of all Ages and Nations, is not attended to as it ought, and a diſtinct Conſideration of it, will enable us to recommend the Deſign of this Solemnity with more Advantage, having ſtated as briefly as I can the general Dependance of Government upon Religion, and the reciprocal Influence of Religion upon Government, I ſhall deduce from thence the National

Utility

Utility and Importance of theſe PROTESTANT CHARTER SCHOOLS. For, if this well-concerted Scheme of Charity is manifeſtly formed upon the ſoundeſt Maxims of a free Proteſtant State, all the Arguments, that can be alledged in Favour of Freedom and Proteſtantiſm, plead for ſuch Schools: and we may, with the utmoſt Propriety, ſay concerning them, For our Brethren and Companions ſake, we will wiſh them Proſperity; for the Sake of the Houſe of the Lord our God, we will ſeek to do them Good.

THAT a ſupreme inviſible Governor ruleth in the Kingdoms of Men, without whoſe Favour and Protection no Individual can be ſafe, and no Community can proſper, is a Truth ſo natural to the Mind of Man, that the moſt untaught Minds feel the Force of it, and, to a certain Degree, act under the Awe of ſuch a Being. For in Fact, even amongſt the moſt barbarous Nations, whoſe Government is carried on in the rudeſt and moſt defective Form, it is not carried on, nor could it ſubſiſt, without the Aid of Religion.

THIS Perſuaſion is as extenſive as human Nature itſelf: and can we want any other Proof to convince us, that it proceeded from the GOD of Nature, who formed Men for Society, and implanted in them this Fear of himſelf as the ſupreme Ruler, that they might dread not to pay a ſuitable Obedience to thoſe Rulers, whom, in the Courſe of his Providence, he ſhould ſet over them?

THE wiſeſt of the Heathen Lawgivers availed themſelves of this Perſuaſion; and that their Laws might be received and obſerved with Reverence, they pretended to derive their Plans of Polity from an Intercourſe with ſome Being ſuperior to Man. They alledged indeed no ſufficient Proof to ſupport their Claim to a Divine Aſſiſtance; but the Claim itſelf is ſufficient to prove, that, in the Opinion of theſe great Maſters of the Art of Government, ſuch a Divine Aſſiſtance was wanting; that Religion might enforce, what Wiſdom had planned. Indeed all juſt and good Laws, though framed by the mere Authority of Man, are ſupported by the Authority of GOD; and nothing but the Influence of his Authority can remedy that Weakneſs and Imperfection, which the neceſſary Weakneſs and Imperfection of Men unavoidably produce in all human Laws. Neither Men, nor the Laws of Men, can take any Cognizance of what paſſes in the Heart; nor puniſh the moſt outrageous Crimes, till the Criminal is detected: and, whatever Power one Man may have over another in the preſent Life, it is certain, he can have none beyond it. But what Hopes of Impunity can Tranſgreſſors flatter themſelves with, whilſt they reflect, that as often as they tranſgreſs the juſt Laws of Society, they at the ſame Time offend a Ruler who knows all they deſign, no leſs than all they do; and that they muſt ceaſe to be, as well as to live, before they can be out of the Reach of his Vengeance.

EXAMINE

EXAMINE the Hiſtory of the World, and you will find every great Empire and Kingdom, in its Riſe and in its Fall, bearing Witneſs to the Dependance of Government upon Religion: And, if you will ſtill require a more glaring Demonſtration of this Truth, turn your Eye to Judea.

IN this Land of Promiſe, the true GOD of the Univerſe ſpecially commiſſioned his Servant Moſes to inſtitute a peculiar Form of Government: and, as a ſtanding Proof that this Government was erected by a divine Authority, GOD himſelf watched over it, during the Period it was intended to laſt, with an extraordinary Providence. GOD, we know, is alike eſſentially preſent, and eſſentially active in all Places: And ſcarce any one can be abſurd enough to imagine he could or did limit his Preſence or his Providence, by aſſuming to himſelf the temporary local Character of the GOD of Iſrael: or ceaſed to be the God of the Gentiles, by becoming, in a ſingular Manner, for the general Benefit of Mankind, the GOD of the Jews. But though the Providence of an infinitely wiſe, and juſt, and good Being, muſt for ever be directed by the ſame unchangeable Meaſures of Wiſdom, Juſtice, and Goodneſs; the Interpoſitions of this Providence may, for particular Reaſons, be diſplayed more in one particular Nation than another; and they were ſo diſplayed in the Nation of the Jews.

WE evidently ſee that Idolatry in the Jewiſh Nation was a formal Act of High Treaſon againſt GOD; and as ſuch it was followed by an immediate National Puniſhment; for this muſt be the ſtated Method of adminiſtring ſuch a Government.—So long as they maintained their Allegiance to GOD, they were invincible in the Field of Battle: No ſooner did they bow down to Idols of their own Invention, than they fled before the Face of their Enemies.—Throughout the whole Period of the Moſaic Diſpenſation, from the intimate Union that ſubſiſted between the Religion and State of the Jews, the Obſervance or Neglect of thoſe Statutes and Judgments, which GOD gave them, operated with a conſtant irreſiſtable Influence; and alternately raiſed or ſunk the Nation: till, in the Fulneſs of Time, the whole Frame of the Moſaic Polity was diſſolved, and the Authority of Moſes ſuperſeded. For when that which is perfect is come, that which is imperfect muſt of Courſe be done away.

CONSIDER next how the Caſe ſtands ſince GOD ſpake to the World by his Son, whom he had originally made Heir of all Things. The Revelation communicated to Mankind by this divine Meſſenger, is of ſuch a Nature, that all Nations and Kingdoms, without Diſtinction, are called upon to attend to it; and being deſigned for their univerſal Benefit, muſt remain in full Force, till the World itſelf paſſeth away.

away. Accordingly, when the Son of GOD came to eſtabliſh his Kingdom, he declared that it was not a Kingdom of this World; and the whole Tenor of the Goſpel ſhews it to be a Kingdom of Righteouſneſs. Now ſuch a Kingdom can have no particular Reference to any one Form of temporal Government more than another, becauſe it is equally fitted to improve the Bleſſings of Society under every Form of Government, to which different Nations are ſubjected: for Righteouſneſs, in the natural Operation of Things, tends to exalt every Nation, in the ſame Proportion that it is practiſed.

SUBJECTS united together by mutual kind Offices, upon a Principle of mutual Good-will, and paying a ſincere conſcientious Obedience to their Rulers, form the real Strength of Government.

Now that the Chriſtian Religion enforces both theſe fundamental Points of Society, by the moſt powerful Motives that can be propoſed to free, reaſonable Creatures, even an Infidel, if he looks into the Writings of the New Teſtament, cannot avoid ſeeing; and every Chriſtian ſees them in thoſe ſacred Writings awfully inculcated by a divine Authority. One Faith, one Lord, one Baptiſm, one God and Father of all, are Conſiderations which bind upon Fellow Chriſtians that Union, which ſhould link them together as Fellow-Subjects of the ſame earthly Country, by Sanctions, which derive their Force from a better Country, i. e. an heavenly. By this ſhall all Men know that ye are my Diſciples, if ye have Love one towards another, ſays our bleſſed Lord, in Words that ought always to be remembered, and which muſt for ever be pleaſing to a benevolent Hearer, though a thouſand Times repeated. And an Apoſtle of Chriſt hath declared, what Reaſon ſuggeſts to us, that Government is the Ordinance of God. If therefore we do not obey this Ordinance for Conſcience-ſake, and much more if we reſiſt it againſt Conſcience, whilſt it is adminiſtered within the Limits preſcribed to it by the Laws of GOD and Men, we ſhall receive to ourſelves Damnation, i. e. we ſhall incur the juſt Puniſhment of Men, and draw upon us the righteous Judgment of GOD.

BUT this is Chriſtianity, as Chriſt and his Apoſtles taught it. Take now this peaceable benevolent Religion in the Light in which Popery exhibits it to us, and you will have before you a Religion, that ſtrikes at the Foundation of Civil Government; a Religion, againſt which we, who are the Proteſtant Subjects of a free Government, ſhall be inſtant in guarding, if we are not ready to give up the Goſpel, and tired with the Poſſeſſion of Peace, of Truth, and of Liberty.

POPERY hath indeed left the Name of Chriſtianity to cover and recommend the Corruptions, which, during a Succeſſion of dark and ignorant Ages, it gradually gradually mixed and blended with the Faith once delivered to the Saints; but it hath ſcarce left any Thing, beſides the Name, to authorize Notions deſtructive of Good-will towards Men, under the Colour of a more exalted Piety towards GOD.

By this deluſive Form of Godlineſs, the Law of univerſal Benevolence is ſuſpended, and the cloſeſt Bonds of ſocial Union broke aſunder: Whilſt Men are taught to believe, that they ſhall do GOD Service, by hating a Brother, and perſecuting a Friend, merely for not aſſenting to a Contradiction, or refuſing to join in an idolatrous Worſhip.

BUT Popery wounds civil Government in a ſtill more vital Part. For it hath ſet up a Man, of like Paſſions and Infirmities with other Men, and frequently with the worſt of Men, to be an infallible Judge. This new Profeſſor of Infallibility impiouſly uſurps a divine Right of cancelling thoſe ſacred Obligations, upon which alone Government can ſtand, or reſt with any Security. And he hath, at every favourable Juncture, pointed this ſpiritual Weapon at Kings and Subjects without Diſtinction, whenever the political Welfare and temporal Dominion of Popery required it to be ſo pointed. For he hath in almoſt every State, at different Times, animated Princes to harraſs, with all the Rage of Perſecution, their peaceable conſcientious Subjects; and abſolved Subjects from their Allegiance to Princes, under whom they enjoyed all the Bleſſings of Government.

FROM this Yoke of civil and religious Bondage, the Reformation delivered our Forefathers. But ſtill the ſame reſtleſs Faction, in all that Period which paſſed between the Reformation and the Revolution, was inceſſantly at work to undermine the Liberty and Proteſtantiſm of England. It actually attempted, more than once, to extirpate the Proteſtants of Ireland, by Maſſacres, attended with Circumſtances of Barbarity, of which one could hardly imagine the moſt ſavage Natures to be capable.

AT laſt indeed a bigotted King, puſhed on by the haſty Zeal of Popiſh Counſellors, threw off the Maſk; and avowedly attacked the Conſtitution of this Country in all its Parts.

AT this dreadful deciſive Juncture, when the People of England ſaw the Liberty and Religion of their Country upon the Point of being overthrown by a lawleſs Violence, Providence raiſed up for us a Deliverer. Thoſe, by whom GOD intends to bring mighty Things to paſs, are uſually endued with a Reſolution worthy of the Cauſe for which they are employed; and furniſhed with a Courage equal to the Difficulties with which they are to contend: Such was our providential Deliverer, King William the Third; unwearied in ſurmounting all Obſtacles, cool and intrepid in conducting the Criſis of Danger, and wiſe in improving the Victory he gained over his and our Enemies. No ſooner had he reſcued us from the Slavery which hung over us, than he provided, as far as human Wiſdom could provide, for our future Safety; for he was no leſs zealous to promote, than ready to concur in that Act of the Legiſlature, by which the civil Rights of the Subject were ſolemnly ſet forth and recognized; and which, in the very Manner of placing him upon the Throne, diſqualified any but a Proteſtant Prince, from aſcending that Guardian Seat of Law and Freedom.

By this providential Settlement, Proteſtantiſm and the Conſtitution of our Country were ſo intimately incorporated, that both muſt now ſtand and fall together. From henceforward civil and religious Liberty are inſeparably united; and what remains to be done towards adding further Strength to both, is juſtly expected from thoſe, who enjoy the happy Fruits of that Union: nor can we, in any ſingle Inſtance, ſhew our Diſpoſition to perform a laſting Service to the Public more effectually, than by aſſiſting theſe Charter Schools.

For if the Proteſtant Intereſt in Ireland evidently wants our Help: If theſe Schools are the moſt probable, perhaps the only effectual Means, of affording the Help more immediately wanted: If this Method of doing it will be equally beneficial, both in a religious and a civil View, I hope we ſhall need no other Inducements, to concur with our Fellow-Subjects of Ireland, in the Proſecution of ſo Chriſtian and public-ſpirited a Deſign.

How much the Proteſtant Intereſt in Ireland wants our Help, the acknowledged Diſproportion, which the Number of Proteſtants bears to the Number of Papiſts, is a melancholy Proof. If it be no greater than four to one, it is an alarming Conſideration. I wiſh it may not be, upon an exact Calculation, found to be ſo great; for it is neither pleaſant nor politic, to magnify the Force, or exaggerate the Numbers of an Enemy.

BUT it ſhould be obſerved, that this Diſproportion is not uniformly ſpread through the Kingdom; if it were ſo, we ſhould have leſs to fear from the Papiſts. For Proteſtants, though ſo much inferior in Number, having the Arms and Power of a regular Government on their Side, would be an Over-match for an unarmed undiſciplined Multitude, who could neither cabal without being detected, nor proceed to Acts of Violence, without being inſtantly cruſhed.

BUT, in Fact, large Tracts of this Country are almoſt entirely poſſeſſed by Papiſts; and they lie uncultivated, becauſe they are in their Poſſeſſion.

To theſe hoſtile Quarters, even in a Time of Peace, a free and ſafe Acceſs is open only to the Enemies of of the Government: conſequently, the Friends of the Government can neither have a ſufficient Intelligence of their Motions, nor any certain Knowledge of their Strength. In a Time of War therefore, when the diſciplined Force of Proteſtants is perhaps diverted, and employed in making Head againſt the Invaſion of a Foreign Enemy, and the Dread of that Force removed from the Popiſh Inhabitants, may not Multitudes, actuated with all the Savageneſs of Ignorance, and puſhed on with all the Rage of Bigotry, pour forth unawares from their inacceſſible Quarters, and bearing down every Thing before them, make the fruitful cultivated Seats of Proteſtantiſm, like their own, a deſolate Wilderneſs?

I BELIEVE no ſerious Proteſtant Inhabitant of Ireland, who ſaw the Danger, and was ſolicitous for the Safety of Ireland, during the late Rebellion, was entirely free from ſomething like this painful Apprehenſion.

IT is a Queſtion, which may be properly aſked, and to which it is not eaſy to give a ſatisfactory Anſwer, whence it hath ariſen, that ever ſince the Revolution ſettled the Proteſtantiſm of Ireland upon a more firm Baſis, than it ever ſtood upon before, it ſhould, after more than half a Century, remain fixed at almoſt the ſame Point, at which it then ſtood, with regard to the Bulk of the People? At leaſt, that it hath not made a Progreſs ſuitable to the Protection and Encouragement it hath experienced in all the ſucceeding Reigns, which have been ſo favourable to the ſame Intereſt? Have no Means been uſed to effect ſo important a Purpoſe, or have the Means uſed been improper and inadequate? I am afraid, thoſe who were moſt nearly concerned to advance Proteſtantiſm, cannot be abſolutely cleared from the Imputation of having been too indifferent, at leaſt, about a Point ſo eſſential to the public Safety and Welfare. And I am ſatisfied, the proper Expedient for ſpreading it among the Bulk of the People, was never hit upon, till the Scheme of theſe PROTESTANT CHARTER SCHOOLS was projected.

IF the particular Circumſtances of any Caſe that ſtands in Need of a Remedy, be not carefully attended to; and if the Remedy, however powerful in itſelf, be not ſpecifically ſuited to theſe Circumſtances; we cannot expect it will produce any great or laſting Good.

NOW the Want of Attention to the particular Circumſtances of Popery in Ireland, ſeems to be the principal Cauſe, which hath obſtructed and confined the Succeſs of Proteſtantiſm.

WE have obſerved already, how ſuperior in Number the Papiſts are to the Proteſtants: but who are they that chiefly compoſe this Superiority? Are they not ſuch as are bred up in a total Ignorance of every Thing?

Thing? habituated to pay a blind Obedience to ſpiritual Guides almoſt as blind as themſelves? enjoined more eſpecially to deteſt Proteſtants as Heretics, with whom no Faith is to be kept? and to dread the Religion of Proteſtants as a State of Damnation?

It is melancholy to reflect that Prejudices, eſpecially religious ones, when they have taken entire Poſſeſſion of a Mind ſo void of all the firſt Principles of Reaſon, that it can ſcarce be called rational, are beyond the Reach of Conviction: Such Papiſts, and ſuch it ſeems moſt of the Iriſh Papiſts are, might be ever learning, without any Poſſibility of coming to the Knowledge of the Truth; for thoſe only are capable of knowing the Truth, who have ſome Principles at leaſt, by which they can diſtinguiſh Truth from Falſhood. What Remedy then can Inſtruction from a Proteſtant adminiſter to any Perſon who hath, from his Infancy, acquired a ſettled Averſion to every ſuch Inſtructor, and looks upon him as the moſt dangerous Enemy, for attempting to tell him the Truth, which he dreads to admit, without knowing what he ſays, or whereof he affirms? In Ireland therefore, if we would gain Proteſtants, we muſt educate them.

This ſingle Conſideration is ſufficient to eſtabliſh the National Utility and Importance of the Proteſtant Charter Schools; for it proves them to be the

the only effectual Means for ſpreading Proteſtantiſm through the Bulk of the People of Ireland.

Now the Plan for carrying this Scheme of Charity into Execution, is exactly conſonant to thoſe Maxims of a free Proteſtant Government, in which the Scheme itſelf is founded: And a curſory View of the Method by which the Schools are regulated, will afford us an agreeable Proſpect of the public and private Good which they are calculated to produce.

It is evident, that the public and private Good juſtly expected from theſe Schools, will greatly depend upon the Choice of proper Teachers. Accordingly the Rules laid down by the Society are, as they ought to be, very ſtrict with regard to the Qualifications of the Maſters and Miſtreſſes. They muſt be known and approved Proteſtants; well-affected to his Majeſty and his Government, and of ſober and virtuous Lives: For to form loyal Subjects out of the Children of Parents who are the moſt determined Enemies to his Majeſty and his Government, is the chief Deſign of theſe Schools; and next to the Fundamentals of Chriſtianity, Sobriety and Virtue are the moſt eſſential Things which ſuch Scholars want to be taught. Maſters and Miſtreſſes ſo qualified, as the Rules require, will undoubtedly deſerve all the Encouragement which the Extenſiveneſs of the Plan, and the Narrowneſs of the Fund, will allow the Society to give them: And unqualified Maſters and Miſtreſſes will be too dearly paid, how low ſoever the Salary is, with which they are contented.

Society

THE ſame Prudence, which preſcribes the Qualifications of the Teachers, hath ſettled the Method in which theſe Children are to be educated, and allotted three Parts in four of their Time to be employed in Bodily Labour. This Method not only deſerves our Praiſe, but our Imitation, in all ſimilar Inſtances, ſo far as it can be adopted. Children who eat the Bread of Charity, ſhould, from the firſt, be habituated to earn their future Subſiſtence. Being ſo trained up, they will chearfully fill the low laborious Stations for which Providence deſigned, and theſe Schools prepare them.

INDEED they are aſſiſted in theſe Schools during the helpleſs Seaſon of Life, in order to be left again to themſelves, when they have been taught to miniſter to their own Neceſſities, and the Support of their Families, in all the Branches of Trade and Agriculture, with Minds formed to Habits of Induſtry, and Hands exerciſed in the ſeveral Kinds of Work, that the different Exigencies of Society, may call upon them to perform.

THE Remainder of their Time is allotted for Inſtruction, and the largeſt Portion of it is ſpent in acquiring that neceſſary Knowledge without which they they would be leſs uſeful to themſelves, and to the Public; and when that neceſſary Knowledge is common to all, as it ought to be in a free civilized Country, it can tempt no one to think more highly of himſelf than he ought to think.

BUT is no Regard paid to the ſpiritual Welfare of theſe Children, and is the One Thing needful, the only Thing that is neglected in Schools profeſſedly ſet up to propagate true Religion? No: All the reſt of their School-time is ſet apart for that Purpoſe, and is ſufficient to anſwer it: For the firſt Principles of the Chriſtian Religion, are plain and intelligible to the meaneſt Capacity. In theſe Principles the Children are to be well grounded; and theſe, if honeſtly attended to, when they are ſent abroad into the World, will both govern their Behaviour, and ſecure their Faith, againſt the cunning Craftineſs of thoſe Seducers by whom they are ſurrounded. Indeed the great practical Truths of Chriſtianity, are ſo agreeable to the common Senſe and Reaſon of Mankind, that we may put the ſame Queſtion to all, to whom they have been once explained, which our Saviour put to his Hearers; Why of yourſelves judge ye not what is right?

A SCHEME ſo juſtly founded, and ſo prudently conducted, cannot fail of producing much Fruit. Some of theſe Fruits will immediately ſpring up and flouriſh; others will require a length of Time to nouriſh nouriſh and ripen them; but theſe too will gradually abound, unleſs through Diſtruſt or Deſpondency we keep back, or withdraw that Culture, by which alone they can, in their Seaſon, bring forth greater Abundance.

ALL national Changes are, at the Beginning, tedious and imperceptible; for inveterate bad Habits cannot be cured but by ſlow Advances, even in ſingle Perſons; and, to reform them throughout a Nation, is a Work, which, when it is firſt entered upon, is ever attended with Difficulties ſtill more diſcouraging.

BUT when the new State of Things, propoſed to be introduced, hath an evident Tendency to make a Nation flouriſh; when it promiſes to remove an Evil, which, ſo long as it ſubſiſts, creates an inteſtine Weakneſs, and is a dead Weight, that keeps down and confines the Proſperity of a Country within certain Limits: ſuch a national Change will be quickned in its Progreſs, in Proportion as the Benefits reſulting from it are more experimentally felt, and more widely diffuſed, thro' the ſeveral Branches of the Community.

THIS general Remark is ſo peculiarly applicable to the Proteſtant Charity Schools in Ireland, that it deſcribes them as clearly, as if they had been expreſs-ly named in it. The Benefits therefore, which a Proteſtant Government cannot fail to reap from them in due Time, have their Foundation in the known Operation of Things: And as theſe Benefits may, upon that Account, be looked for with Certainty, they will be waited for with Patience. As we have then ſo inviting a Proſpect before us, we ſhall undoubtedly aſſiſt in quickning the Progreſs of theſe Schools with more Zeal and Chearfulneſs.

INDEED theſe Schools, even in the firſt Period of their Eſtabliſhment, when the good Effects of them could not be ſenſibly felt by the Public, have advanced faſter than we could reaſonably expect, whilſt ſome Prejudices on the Part of Friends were not perhaps removed; and the moſt eager Oppoſition hath been given to them, by all the Keenneſs and Dexterity of Popiſh Counſels.

A THOUSAND uſeful Pair of Hands have been already formed by them for the Service of the Public, in Trade and Agriculture; and theſe new acquired induſtrious young Proteſtants, are now labouring in that Service.—Every Year will furniſh us with freſh Supplies from theſe fruitful Nurſeries of Proteſtantiſm, in which, at this Time, almoſt fifteen hundred poor Children are actually training up in a Courſe of Labour, Sobriety, and Virtue, for the Uſe of the Farmer, the Manufacturer, and the Gentleman.

man. Theſe Labourers, when ſent out from theſe Schools, will, in the Parts were they reſide, become ſo many Inſtructors to thoſe of their own low Rank; and as they will inſtruct them by their Example, their Inſtruction will be communicated in the moſt ſtriking Form, by the viſible Effects of Labour and Induſtry.

FORTY two Schools are already eſtabliſhed: Others are deſigned to be erected, in Places, where the poor Popiſh Parents will now have, perhaps for the firſt Time, an Opportunity of delivering up their Children, to be made uſeful to Society, and wiſe unto Salvation.

BUT the Fund of the Society is already ſhort, by near Four thouſand Pounds a Year, of the preſent Demands upon it. How unequal then muſt it be, to carry on, in its full Extent, this glorious National Plan of Proteſtant Charity!

THAT our Fellow-Subjects in Ireland will exert the utmoſt Efforts of Charity, in the Support of theſe Schools, which will be an everlaſting Honour, an encreaſing Security to that Kingdom, I will not, I cannot doubt: For They have an immediate Concern and Intereſt in their Succeſs, and will directly reap the firſt Fruits of their own Beneficence. But when they have done all they can, they will ſtill want the Aſſiſtance of England; and I hope they will not be diſappointed; eſpecially at this Time, when we ſo liberally abound in every Work of Charity.

IN raiſing a National Spirit, for the Promotion of Trade and Induſtry in their own Country, they have ſet us an Example; which, if we are not wanting to ourſelves, we ſhall labour to imitate. In projecting theſe PROTESTANT CHARTER SCHOOLS, for delivering the poor Children of Iriſh Papiſts from the Slavery of Ignorance and Superſtition, they have contrived the moſt effectual, perhaps the only Means, by which the Light of Proteſtantiſm can be communicated to the Body of the People in Ireland; and till it is ſo communicated, England will be obliged to guard the Weakneſs of one large Branch of a Proteſtant Monarchy againſt a hoſtile Strength, which is continually growing up within itſelf; and which, we may be ſure, is ſecretly tampered with in Time of Peace, and inſenſibly prepared to break out into open Acts of Violence and Barbarity, in Time of War. For Popery is ſtill the ſame, however diſguiſed and ſoftened by the Repreſentation of its Apologiſts, or the polite inſinuating Addreſs of thoſe Papiſts, who profeſs an Abhorrence of all ſanguinary Maxims or Meaſures: Since a corrupt perſecuting Religion will ever adopt thoſe Maxims, and purſue thoſe Meaſures, as often as it is ſafe and expedient to throw off the Maſk, in the moſt civilized Age and Nation, Nation, as well as the moſt barbarous. Even now, many of our Proteſtant Brethren abroad are groaning under Perſecution, and forbid to fly from it; whilſt they ſuffer ſuch Cruelties at home, as make their native Country, to them, an inſupportable Houſe of Bondage.

WAR always finds out the weak and rotten Sides of a State: And, unhappily, we ſeem to be rather informed than inſtructed, by conſtant Experience, that Ireland is the Side, on which England is, and will be moſt liable to be wounded, till Proteſtantiſm hath taken Poſſeſſion of the Hearts of the Common People, and is declared to be their Religion by the Voice of the Multitude. For this National End, theſe Schools which we are recommending, were erected; and they are moſt powerfully recommended to us, by the Encouragement they have received from the Throne. For a KING, who reigns over us with the Affection of a common Parent, hath amply diſtinguiſhed theſe Seminaries of Proteſtantiſm and Labour, by his Royal Bounty. This is a convincing Proof both of their Utility and Importance; for our gracious Sovereign would not ſo ſolemnly recommend to his loyal Subjects, by his own Example, any Deſign, which He did not in his Royal Wiſdom approve, as conducive to the general Good of his Kingdoms.

BUT

BUT our Zeal for Proteſtantiſm, and Freedom itſelf, ſhould have no Warmth in it, but that which a Love of Truth and Good-will towards Men inſpire: And it ſhould be exerted in every Inſtance, as it is in this, in a Manner agreeable to the Genius of a Free Conſtitution, and that mild Adminiſtration of Government, under which it is our ſingular Privilege to live.

TRUTH is mighty in itſelf; and, when propagated in the Love of it, by the Meekneſs of Inſtruction, and the Influence of Kindneſs, it muſt prevail; becauſe it ſubdues the very Inclination to Reſiſtance. For the Weapon with which we attack our Adverſaries, being borrowed from Benevolence, and directed by Charity, the Victory, by which they are overcome, at the ſame Time civilizes, inſtructs, and engages them to act the Part of true Friends to their Country, and to themſelves. Thus theſe PROTESTANT CHARTER SCHOOLS will, by the amiable Spirit that formed and governs this Scheme of Chriſtian Policy, gradually obtain their full Effect, and have their perfect Work: And, in ſome future Generation, when the Face of Ireland is renewed by the happy Change, her Fields will every where bring forth their Increaſe, and her deſolate Places be peopled with Inhabitants, zealous in the Cauſe of Truth and Liberty: Truth will ſpring out of the Earth, and and Righteouſneſs look down from Heaven. Bleſſed are the People that are in ſuch a Caſe; yea, bleſſed ſhall we be, if for our Brethren and Companions Sakes, if for the Sake of the Goſpel of Chriſt, we ſhew, that we wiſh our Fellow-Subjects of Ireland this Proſperity, by cordially ſeeking to do them, and ourſelves, this Good.

ABSTRACT

HIS MAJESTY'S ROYAL CHARTER,

For Erecting and Promoting ENGLISH Proteſtant Schools in IRELAND.

GEORGE the Second, by the Grace of GOD, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. —To all Perſons to whom theſe Preſents ſhall come.—Foraſmuch as we have received Information by the Petition of the Lord Primate, Lord Chancellor, Archbiſhops, Noblemen, Biſhops, Judges, Gentry, and Clergy of our Kingdom of Ireland, That in many Parts of the ſaid Kingdom there are great Tracts of Land almoſt intirely inhabited by Papiſts, who are kept by their Clergy in great Ignorance of the true Religion, and bred up in great Diſaffection to the Government: That the Erecting of Engliſh Proteſtant Schools in thoſe Places, is abſolutely neceſſary for their Converſion; that the Engliſh Pariſh Schools already eſtabliſhed, are not ſufficient for that Purpoſe; nor can the Reſidence of the Parochial Clergy only, fully anſwer that End.

To the Intent therefore, that the Children of the Popiſh, and other poor Natives of the ſaid Kingdom, may be inſtructed in the Engliſh Tongue, and the Principles of true Religion and Loyalty, and that ſo good a Deſign may the more effectually be carried on; The Lord Lieutenant, and ſome of the chief Nobility, Gentry, and Clergy of the ſaid Kingdom, are appointed Commiſſioners to execute the Purpoſes of this Charter, and have a Power to elect others in the Room of their deceaſed Members; and are conſtituted a Corporation or Body Politic, by the Name of The Incorporated SOCIETY in Dublin, for Promoting Engliſh Proteſtant Schools in Ireland: And are capable to receive and enjoy in Fee, and in Perpetuity, any Manors, Lands, Tenements, &c. the ſame not exceeding the Value of Two Thouſand Pounds per Annum, and any Sum or Sums of Money, that ſhall be given them by any Perſon or Perſons, Bodies Politic and Corporate, &c. to be applied for the Eſtabliſhing and Supporting Engliſh Proteſtant Schools, in ſuch Places of the Kingdom as they ſhall think proper.

The ſaid Society is impowered to nominate and appoint Schoolmaſters and Schoolmiſtreſſes, to be approved and licenſed by the Archbiſhops and Biſhops reſpectively, to continue during the Pleaſure of the ſaid Society; who are to be ſupported by the Society, and provided with all Things neceſſary for the Inſtruction of the poor Children in the Principles of the Proteſtant Religion, Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic; as likewiſe with proper Books, and all neceſſary Materials fit for teaching them Huſbandry, Houſewifery, Trades, Manufactures, &c. in order to bring them up to Virtue, Labour, and Induſtry.

The Society is likewiſe impowered to nominate Perſons to receive Subſcriptions, Benefactions, &c. in any Part of his Majeſty's Dominions, from all well-diſpoſed Perſons.—The Society may elect and admit Subſcribers (being Proteſtants) to be Members, to aſſiſt in carrying on the Deſign aforeſaid.

A BRIEF

A BRIEF

REVIEW

OF THE

Riſe and Progreſs of the Incorporated Society in Dublin, for Promoting Engliſh Proteſtant Schools in Ireland, from the Opening of His Majeſty's Royal Charter, February 6th, 1733, to March 25th, 1753.

THE ſlow Advances which the Proteſtant Religion, and a Spirit of Induſtry, have made among the common People of Ireland, for an Age paſt, being obſerved by ſome worthy Perſons of this Kingdom, they formed themſelves into a voluntary Society for ſetting up Parochial Schools, as the beſt Remedy they could provide in that Caſe.

Hereupon many ſuch Schools were ſet up in Dublin, and ſome other chief Cities and Towns, under the Encouragement and Direction of ſeveral of the Biſhops, Nobility, Gentry, and Clergy, as a Means to forward the good Work; but after the Experience of many Years, they perceived that the Succeſs did not anſwer their Expectations; for the Children being taught as Day-Scholars only, and afterwards put out Apprentices and Servants, in Places not remote enough from their own Homes, their Popiſh Parents, and their Prieſts, had too frequent Acceſs to them, and often found Means to draw them back to Popery, juſt at that Point of Life, when Children begin to be ſuſceptible of Religious Impreſſions.

But this Scheme, even though it had not failed in any Part, was very inſufficient to anſwer the End of a general Reformation; for as the major Part of thoſe Scholars were the Children of Proteſtants, the Number of young Converts made in thoſe Schools was very ſmall, and could not have turned the Balance againſt Popery in the Space of ſome Centuries.

It was therefore judged neceſſary to find out ſome other Expedient, that might operate more extenſively and ſpeedily, to the general Converſion and Reformation of the poor Natives. And the Expedient at laſt happily choſen, was to apply to His Majeſty by Petition, that he would by his Charter, incorporate a SOCIETY, with Powers for erecting Schools in ſeveral Parts of the Kingdom, wherein the Children of poor Papiſts, and other poor Natives, ſhould be inſtructed in the Engliſh Tongue (which many of them cannot ſpeak) and in the Principles of true Religion and Loyalty.

An humble Petition was accordingly preſented to His Majeſty, dated the 17th Day of April, 1730, being ſigned by their Excellencies the then Lords Juſtices, and a great Number of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, of the Commons, the Clergy, and principal Gentlemen of the Kingdom; whereupon His Majeſty, through the favourable Interpoſition of his Grace the Duke of Dorſet, then Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, was graciouſly pleaſed to grant His Royal Charter for the Purpoſes before-mentioned, bearing Date the 24th Day of October, 1733.

On the 6th Day of February following, the ſaid Charter was opened and read in the Council Chamber in Dublin, in Preſence of his Grace the Lord Lieutenant aforeſaid, and many of the Nobility and Gentry. The Officers directed by the Charter were immediately choſen, and a Subſcription-Book opened for carrying on the good Work.

Many Perſons of Rank and Diſtinction then preſent, ſubſcribed largely; among whom the late Earl of Kildare deſerves to be mentioned with particular Honour and Gratitude, who gave Five Hundred Pounds at the firſt Opening of the Charter, and has ſince bequeathed Fifteen Hundred Pounds to the Society, for encouraging the School at Caſtledermot, and for erecting two other Schools, viz. one at Strangford, and the other at Manooth.

But as the Effects of this Charter could not be obtained in their full Latitude, without keeping the Children apart from their Parents, and maintaining them in Meat, Drink, and Cloathing, and erecting Houſes for their Accommodation, and furniſhing the ſame, and paying Salaries to Schoolmaſters, and providing Tools and Utenſils for their Country Labours; it was ſoon evident, that the neceſſary Expence of a few Schools would require a greater Fund than this poor Country could ſupply.

The Society therefore found themſelves under a Neceſſity of having Recourſe to the Charity and Piety of England (which has ever been diſtinguiſhed for Acts of Munificence) and herein their Hopes have not been diſappointed, as will appear from the Liſt of Engliſh Benefactors, which has been yearly publiſhed, and will continue ſo to be.

In

In Purſuance of this View, the Society ſent over their late Secretary, John Hanſard, Eſq; furniſhed with proper Credentials for ſoliciting and receiving Benefactions, in which he proved very ſucceſsful.

It was likewiſe thought adviſeable to ſet on foot a Correſponding Society in London, who reſiding in that Metropolis, might be inſtrumental in procuring and remitting Subſcriptions and Donations, and keeping up a regular Correſpondence with the Incorporated Society in Dublin, in order to inform them of all Occurrences, and to communicate their Sentiments and Advice, as Occaſion ſhould require.

By which Means ſeveral Perſons were encouraged to become Subſcribers: of which Number were moſt of the Biſhops of England; who, animated with a Zeal for the Honour of God, and a Spirit of Charity towards the poor deluded Natives of Ireland, preſently offered their Aſſiſtance; and having firſt contributed their own Benefactions, formed themſelves into a Society for that End, and have brought in a plentiful Harveſt of Benefactions to recruit the Fund, for which the Society do hereby publicly return Thanks to them, and to the pious and generous Benefactors whom God hath raiſed up by their Means; ſome of thoſe we are bound in an eſpecial Manner to mention, and acknowledge in this Place: Theſe are One thouſand Pounds, being His Majeſty's Donation, beſides His Royal Grant of a thouſand Pounds per Annum; Mr Whichcote, fifteen hundred Pounds; Mrs Holden, two thouſand Pounds; his Grace the Duke of Devonſhire, three hundred ſeventy ſix Pounds and upwards; Mrs Dionyſia Long, fifty Pounds yearly for ten Years paſt; the Right Honourable the Earl of Cheſterfield, two hundred and fifty Pounds; Mrs Eſther Houblon, a Legacy of five hundred Pounds; Ebenezer Dubois, Eſq; a Legacy of five hundred Pounds; a Perſon unknown, by Joſeph Fawthrop, Eſq; five hundred Pounds; ſundry Remittances from the Weſt-Indies, by the Honourable Sir Peter Warren, Honourable Colonel John Murray, and others, amounting to ſixteen hundred Pounds and upwards; a Legacy by Thomas Owen, Eſq; Mr Dennis De Bredt, &c. Executors of Mrs Eſther Blunden, deceaſed, three hundred Pounds; from Henry Herring, Eſq; two hundred Pounds, and a Legacy from ditto, of two hundred Pounds; from a Lady unknown, by the Hands of W. E. one hundred Pounds; from William Sotheby, Eſq; one of the Executors of Mrs Elizabeth Criſpe, deceaſed, one hundred Pounds; from John Thornton, Eſq; one hundred Pounds; from ditto, being a Moiety of a Legacy left by his Father, one hundred Pounds; and a Legacy of Tho. Downes, Eſq; one hundred Pounds; from Sam. Tuffnel, Eſq; of Langleys in Eſſex, two hundred Pounds; a Legacy of Mr Sam. Brewſter, deceaſed, of St Edmond's Bury in Suffolk, by Mr Richard Brewſter, Brewſter, of five hundred Pounds; from the Right Honourable the Earl of Egmont, three hundred Pounds Iriſh, being in full of a Legacy of the late Earl of Egmont, payable at thirty Pounds per Annum, for ten Years; which the preſent Earl choſe to diſcharge at one Payment; a Legacy of Jean Herman Billerbeck, Eſq; of five hundred Pounds, paid by the Honourable Aũguſtus Schutz and Gerhard Andreas de Reiche, Eſqrs; a Legacy left by the late Mr Edward Flower of Maryland, of one hundred Pounds; and a Legacy of the late Dr Perkins, of five hundred Pounds.

And we muſt with particular Gratitude obſerve, that the Parliament of Ireland have, out of their Zeal for the Proteſtant Religion, Patronized and Encouraged the Society, by creating a new Fund in the Hawkers and Pedlars Act, and appropriating the whole Produce of thoſe Duties to the Uſe of the Charter; and that his Grace the Duke of Dorſet, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, having at the Opening of the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, particularly recommended theſe Schools, the Houſe of Commons was pleaſed to petition His Majeſty for five thouſand Pounds, which he graciouſly granted for the Uſe of the Society.

By theſe ſeaſonable Aids, the Society have been enabled to extend their Schools into ſeveral Parts of the Kingdom, through the Encouragement of divers Gentlemen, and Bodies Corporate, who have given in Perpetuity one Acre of Land, ſome of them a greater Quantity, for the Site of a School on their Eſtates, beſides beneficial Leaſes of ſmall Farms contiguous to every School, to be cultivated and improved by the Labour of the Boys; particularly the five Corporations of Dublin, Waterford, Kilkenny, Caſhell, and Trim, who have generouſly made conſiderable Grants out of their Eſtates, for encouraging Schools in or near their reſpective Cities, as is more fully ſet forth in the yearly Abſtract.

In Conſequence whereof, the Society have under their preſent Care and Direction forty Schools already opened; four now building, and ſix reſolved to be immediately built; making in all fifty Schools; beſides a Charter Nurſery in a Houſe hired for that Uſe in Dublin, where Children ſent up from the Country in Rags, are cloathed, fed, and taught, and attended by a Maſter, Miſtreſs, and Nurſe. This is a Sort of Storehouſe, from whence the Children are tranſplanted to the Country Schools as Occaſions require, and has Accommodations for about One Hundred Children in Number, all which are ſupported out of their ſlender Fund. The Society call it ſlender, becauſe it is comparatively ſo, regard being had to their preſent Out-goings, and to the Multitude of poor Popiſh Children yet unprovided for, who would fill ten times that Number of Schools, for a Succeſſion of many Years, if Means could be found to maintain them.

But

But as the Divine Providence hath raiſed up many Benefactors for carrying on this good Work thus far, the Society would hope that it will not reſt here; but that God would put it into the Hearts of many other Charitable Perſons to encourage theſe Schools, ſince they can no where find fitter Objects. For Charity can never be carried higher, than to reſcue the Souls of Thouſands of poor Children from the Dangers of Popiſh Superſtition and Idolatry, and their Bodies from the Miſeries of Idleneſs and Beggary. This is not retailing Charity to Particulars, but diffuſing it over a whole Nation; it is a Charity that will make thoſe who are at preſent a Nuſance and a Burden to their Country, to become a Treaſure and a Bleſſing to it; that will make honeſt and induſtrious Men, of thoſe who would have been bred up in Thievery and Rags; it is a Charity that will multiply obedient and peaceable Subjects to the King, and render the Proteſtants of Ireland ſafe in their Lives and Poſſeſſions. And it will for ever take away the chief Cauſe of thoſe Diſquietudes and Apprehenſions, which, upon ſome former Conjunctures, have alarmed the Government and People of England, by reaſon of the near Neighbourhood of a formidable Body of Papiſts, devoted to the See of Rome, and ready to rebel at the Inſtigation of their Prieſts, or the ſecret Machinations of a foreign Enemy.

Theſe will be ſome of the happy Effects of the Charter-Schools, if they can be ſufficiently multiplied and extended. And yet they will be produced by Means that cannot be liable to Cenſure or Objection; not by Force of Terror, not by Penal Laws and Proſecutions, which can only make Hypocrites; but by the innocent and gentle Means of enlightening and inſtructing the ignorant Minds of Children in the pure Truths of the Goſpel, and leading them early to that Fountain-Head, which the Church of Rome has cruelly ſealed up. Theſe are the only Methods practiſed by the Society, as being agreeable to the Nature of Man, and to the Genius of the Chriſtian Religion.

And for obviating the great Danger of the Childrens relapſing, the Society are very careful to tranſplant them originally to Schools remote from their Popiſh Parents and Relations, who would be apt to pervert them. This Expedient, ſo eſſential to the obtaining the Ends of the Charter, tho' it may have eſcaped public Cognizance, has proved an Article of no ſmall Expence to the Society, and will continue ſo to be.

If, after all, any Man ſhould really doubt whether this Scheme for converting the poor Natives of Ireland, be well calculated for that purpoſe, he may eaſily be ſatisfied from the Alarm it has given to the Popiſh Prieſts, who have lately denied the Communion, and refuſed Abſolution to thoſe Parents who have ſuffered their Children to be received into the Charter-Schools, though it be to ſave them from periſhing with Hunger and Nakedneſs. This is a plain Confeſſion of their inward Fears and Apprehenſions, that the Charter is laying the Axe to the Root of Popery, and will in its Progreſs accompliſh that Work by ſweet and inſenſible Means, which has been too hard for coercive and penal Laws, in a Courſe of more than fifty Years.

The Society cannot part with this Subject, without offering one Hint to the Gentlemen of this Kingdom; which they do with the greateſt Deference and Tenderneſs.

It is evident, that the greateſt Part of the Contributions to this good Work have been remitted from England, to the Amount of 24111 l. 16 s. to Nov. 1, 1752, given by Perſons, many of whom have no Intereſt in Ireland, nor Relation to it, but ſend over their Bounty upon the pure Principle of Charity, and for God's Sake, for which they can hope for no Reward but in the World to come. But the Caſe is very different with regard to the Gentlemen of Ireland; for as their Benefactions will be laid out in their own Country, and frequently upon their own Eſtates, the Money will circulate among their own Tenants, and in the End reimburſe the Donors: Every Popiſh Child turned out a Proteſtant from theſe Schools, will bring an Acceſſion of Strength to the Proteſtant Intereſt, and of Wealth to the Kingdom, by the Labour of his Hands. So that if the Charter-Schools could be ſufficiently extended and diffuſed, they would be the Means of increaſing Induſtry and Trade, and uſeful Manufactures; which muſt of courſe improve every Gentleman's Eſtate.

The Society will conclude with this one Obſervation, which they apprehend to be of conſiderable Importance, though little attended to; namely, that the Progreſs of theſe Schools muſt, in its natural Courſe, gradually aboliſh the great Number of Popiſh Holidays, by Means of which, ſome hundred thouſands of working Hands are kept idle, and the Labour and Profit of them loſt to the Public Stock for a conſiderable Part of the Year, the very Harveſt not excepted.

This Damage, as little as it is obſerved, yet upon a fair Calculation, will appear to be an aſtoniſhing Draw-back from the Wealth and Strength of the Nation; for it eats like a Worm unſeen at the Root of our Proſperity, which grows chiefly from Labour, and muſt languiſh with the Decreaſe of it.

It is manifeſt therefore, that the Increaſe of Proteſtant Hands, in conſequence of theſe Schools, will remove this great Evil, which, humanly ſpeaking, cannot be done by any other Means.

N. B. At a General Meeting of The Incorporated Society, &c. held on Monday the 28th of March, 1748. Reſolved, That a Portion of five Pounds ſhall be given to every Perſon educated in the Charter-Schools, upon his or her marrying a Proteſtant, with the Approbation of the Committee of Fifteen; every ſuch Perſon, producing a proper Certificate, that he or ſhe have duly ſerved out their Apprenticeſhip.

Inſcribed to, and recommended by the Moſt Reverend the Archbiſhops, and Right Reverend the Biſhops, Governors, and Members of the Two Societies—For Propagating the Goſpel in Foreign Parts—and Promoting Chriſtian Knowledge at Home;

By the Right Reverend Father in God,

THOMAS, Lord Biſhop of SODOR and MAN,

KNOWLEDGE and PRACTICE

CHRISTIANITY

Made eaſy to the Meaneſt Capacities:

OR, AN

ESSAY towards an Inſtruction for the Indians.

Which will be of Uſe

To all ſuch CHRISTIANS as have not well conſider'd the Meaning of the RELIGION they profeſs; or who profeſs to know GOD, but in WORKS do deny Him.

In ſixteen ſhort, plain, and familiar DIALOGUES.

Together with FAMILY PRAYERS and MEDITATIONS, &c.

The SEVENTH EDITION, with large ADDITIONS; and Corrected throughout: To this EDITION is added, The true Method of keeping the LORD's DAY Holy; with proper Meditations, &c.

LONDON, Printed; and Sold by BENJAMIN DOD, Bookſeller to the Society for Promoting Chriſtian Knowledge; who will make a conſiderable Abatement in the Price, to ſuch charitable and well-diſpoſed Perſons as take Numbers of this Book to give away at home, or in our Plantations or Colonies abroad.

N. B. This Book is wrote in a plain, eaſy and familiar Style, ſuited to the Capacities of the moſt Unlearned and Ignorant, eſpecially the younger Part of all Families: And the Author has therefore carefully avoided all Controverſies, as being too apt to diſtract the Minds of both Teachers and Learners; and divert them from attending to, and practiſing the important Doctrines of our Holy Religion. Had this little Book been intended for the Uſe of Heathens only, many Things might have been omitted: But when one ſees, even amongſt Chriſtians of all Perſuaſions, too many, who, with reſpect either to Knowledge or Practice, are not much better than Heathens; who know little of a Saviour and Redeemer, and the Neceſſity of being governed by the Laws of the Goſpel: Upon theſe mournful Conſiderations, the Author thought proper to add many Things, which, through the Bleſſing of Almighty GOD, might be of uſe to awaken and convert ſuch miſerable and unthoughtful People.

☞ This Book is tranſlated by a good Hand into French, and is lately printed at GENEVA, for the Uſe of PROTESTANTS of All Denominations, in foreign Parts, as well as in theſe Kingdoms, and a Number of them are now in the Hands of BENJAMIN DOD, Bookſeller to the Society for Promoting Chriſtian Knowledge, at the Bible and Key in Ave-Mary Lane; and will be diſpoſed of at Reaſonable Rates.
